

San Francisco International Wine Competition 2007

Quattro Mani

2005 Montepulciano d'Abruzzo

SILVER MEDAL

The San Francisco International Wine Competition is the largest, most influential international wine competition in America, judged by a prestigious panel of nationally recognized wine experts. The Competition is directed by Blue Lifestyle's Anthony Dias Blue, the nationally syndicated columnist, radio personality, and the world-renowned expert in judging fine wines. Competition judges represent noted restaurants and hotels, are wine buyers for large beverage purveyors, or are wine journalists for major media throughout the United States and abroad. Judging is based on a blind, consensual procedure, ensuring that its rigor and integrity remain the nation's most respected. This year's tasting was held on June 15, 16 and 17 at the Hotel Nikko located in downtown San Francisco. www.sfwinecomp.com

The 2005 Quattro Mani Montepulciano d'Abruzzo was awarded a Silver medal in a competition that included over 1,000 wineries from 21 countries.
